L.O. I can use a range of narrative devices when improving a Greek Myth with a twist.

This was the outcome of my brainstorm from last week as shown yesterday. It could be seen as a parody.

Task 2: Discuss with a grown-up how we could give the Myth of Pandora a Modern Twist. Look at different elements of the Myth and write down at least one idea for a modern equivalent.

Traditional element	Modern Twist
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Two brothers (Prometheus and Epimetheus) 	Ant and Dec
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Creating something special (like humans were created by Prometheus) 	Baking robot David
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Disobeying the rule of an adult/authority (Prometheus gave humans fire) 	Paul Hollywood: "Do not give them the power to bake to perfection."
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A repeated punishment (like Prometheus was chained to the rock and eagles feasted on him) 	Ant chained to a giant cupcake and hidden in Paul's garden
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A grand/special event takes place (wedding) 	Launch of new baking show
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Being given a mysterious present that was not meant to be opened (Pandora's box), 	Mysterious box
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Opening the present and something bad happens (Pandora open box and all evil gets released), 	Flying boos (mosquito like)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A glimpse of something positive appears at the end, 	Little applause leaves last

I had to organise my ideas into the template to create my own plan for a Myth with a modern twist

Build up - how does the problem begin and why? What needs to be created in the world? Ant creates baking robot David, wins British Bake Off 2019 Paul deeply upset, A - tied to cupcake, Paul makes Noel,	Climax - problem What effect does this have on main character and on others? What happens between the characters? new baking show (excited), present from angry Paul (Gugelhupf shaped box) "Don't open" Noel so tempted	Resolution - problem is solved What is the outcome of the confrontation? What comes to be in the world (Hurricane, flood?) Dec doesn't pay attention N opens - Boos escape, quickly closing, faint noises - open - applause escape,
Beginning - Who is the Main character? What are they like? What is the world like at that time? Ant & Dec caring, popular, mischievous, world - happy, grumpy baking god	<table border="1"> <tr> <td>The next day</td> <td>Later that morning</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>After that</td> <td>Meanwhile</td> <td>Finally</td> </tr> <tr> <td>At last</td> <td>Suddenly</td> <td>But</td> </tr> <tr> <td>By this time</td> <td>Since</td> <td>Eventually</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Ever since</td> <td>As</td> <td>At that moment</td> </tr> </table>	The next day	Later that morning		After that	Meanwhile	Finally	At last	Suddenly	But	By this time	Since	Eventually	Ever since	As	At that moment	Ending - say how everyone feels and or look why things are as they are today audience in panic, Ant hears the Boos - despair, then the quiet clapping -> hope to be released one day,
The next day	Later that morning
After that	Meanwhile	Finally
At last	Suddenly	But
By this time	Since	Eventually

What went well today and why?

What do you need to improve? How and why?
